STORY OF A MERCHANT PRINCE.

There was an old geezer and he had a lot of sense; He started up a business on a dollar-eighty cents. The dollar for stock and the eighty for an aid, Brought him three levely dollars in a day, by dad! Well, he bought more goods and a little more space And he played that system with a smile on his face. The customers flocked to his two-by-four And soon he had to hustle for a regular store Up on the square, where the people pass, He gobbled up a corner that was all plate glass, He fixed up the windows with the best that he had, And he told 'em all about it in a half-page ad. He soon had 'em coming and he never, never quit, And he wouldn't cut down on his ads one bit. Well, he's kept things humming in the town ever since And everybody calls him the Merchant Prince. Some say it's luck, but that's all bunk-Why, he was doing business when the times were unk. People have to purchase and the geezer was wise-For he knew the way to get 'em was to advertise. -Chicago Heartstone.

How The World Empties and Fills

WENTY-ONE years ago Coxey's Army marched to Washington. All the papers were full of it. Mention Coxey to anybody over thirty-five years old and see the understanding in his face. Know Coxey and his blooming army? Well, I should say so! Now try Coxey on men and women in the twenties. Just try it. It will open your eyes. Coxey? Who the blazes is Coxey? Looks of confusion and ignorance.

Coxey, you see, quit advertising. That is, the Coxey publicity ceased. And the world has filled up with people who never heard of him. Millions and millions of them.

That is the way with some advertisers. They speak up a few times and then go back to their factories. There, by George, we've told 'em! And then old Father Time begins to work. And the undertaker. And the parson armed with a marriage license. And the matism. And, first you know, the world is peopled with new bosses, new huyers and new housekeepers who never heard of you. Incredible! What! -never heard of ME? No, never heard of you! Sorry to disappoint you.

Man is provided with a great big ego. If he didn't have it he couldn't stand to live. Without an ego he would probably take one look at the moon and go jump in the lake. Now the best thing that an ego does is to give you a fine feeling of permanence, Of course you aren't permanent, and your better sense tells you so. But Mr. Ego keeps trying to make you THINK you are. What he aims to do is to make you feel comfortable. Nice thing to have around—an ego. You need him in your business, But don't believe everything he tells you. He is the most agreeable and ever-present liar on your premises.-John M. Siddall, From American Magazine.

STORY OF A MERCHANT PRINCE.

There was an old geezer and he had a lot of sense;

He started up a business on a dollar-eighty cents.

Brought him three lovely dollars in a day, by dad!

Well, he bought more goods and a little more space

And he played that system with a smile on his face.

The dollar for stock and the eighty for an aid,

The customers flocked to his two-by-four And soon he had to hustle for a regular store

Up on the square, where the people pass,

He gobbled up a corner that was all plate glass,

And he told 'em all about it in a half-page ad.

And he wouldn't cut down on his ads one bit.

And everybody calls him the Merchant Prince.

Some say it's luck, but that's all bunk-

He fixed up the windows with the best that he had,

He soon had 'em coming and he never, never quit,

Well, he's kept things humming in the town ever since

Why, he was doing business when the times were unk.

baby carriage carriage. And rheumatism. And, first you know, the world is peopled with new bosses, new buyers and new housekeepers who never heard of you. Incredible! What! -never heard of ME? No, never heard of you! Sorry to disappoint you.

Man is provided with a great big ego. If he didn't have it he couldn't stand to live. Without an ego he would probably take one look at the moon and go jump in the lake. Now the best thing that an ego does is to give you a fine feeling of permanence, Of course you aren't permanent, and your better sense tells you so. But Mr. Ego keeps trying to make you THINK you are. What he aims to do is to make you feel comfortable. Nice thing to have around—an ego. You need him in your business, But don't believe everything he tells you. He is the most agreeable and ever-present liar on your premises .-- John M. Siddall, From American Magazine.

WENTY-ONE years ago Coxey's Army marched to Washington. All the papers were full of it. Mention Coxey to anybody over thirty-five years old and see the understanding in his face. Know Coxey and his blooming army? Well, I should say so! Now try Coxey on men and women in the twenties. Just try it. It will open your eyes. Coxey? Who the blazes is Coxey? Looks of confusion and ignorance.

That is the way with some adver-
